Welcome to the Shiloh Museum!

Located in downtown Springdale, the Shiloh Museum takes its name from the pioneer community of Shiloh, which became Springdale in the 1870s.

We focus on six counties in Northwest Arkansas: Benton, Boone, Carroll, Madison, Newton, and Washington. And we focus on the real shapers of Ozark history—the everyday men, women, and children who lived in our towns and rural communities. Their stories are told through a variety of exhibits on native peoples, pioneers, the Civil War, the fruit, timber, and poultry industries, and traditional folklife.

Our campus also includes a research library and six historic buildings: a log cabin, barn, doctor's office, general store, outhouse, and town home.

Education Programs

Education programs are available free of charge for preschool through high school students and are designed to meet grade-appropriate curriculum frameworks.

To schedule a program, contact Pody Gay, Education Coordinator, at 479-750-8165 or pgay@springdalear.gov.

For more information, visit our website at www.springdalear.gov/shiloh.
